

Spring '18

How do you add the course after the semester starts?

In short, keep attending until I enroll you or enrollment closes.

- Students from the CSUS online wait list go to the top of my personal wait list to start the semester. Other students who attend class are then added to the list.
- Students on my wait list who miss a class meeting are removed from the wait list (but can be added back upon returning).
- You need to sign yourself in at every class meeting.
- If you're not (yet) enrolled, I need your SacLink email address to make sure you're added to Canvas, so that you can fully participate in the course – which you should do in case you get enrolled.
- If you're not (yet) added to Canvas, you should download the syllabus from my faculty website, www.jdphilosophy.com/.
- For normal adds through F 2/2, don't use the university form – get the department's form from MND3000 or the website, fill it out, and bring it to class while trying to add. After that date and until F 2/16, use the university form, and write on the back of it a brief explanation of the reason for adding late.
